

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
2 NAVY ANNEX
WASHINGTON DC 20370-5100

JRE
Docket No: 2809-99
26 July 2000

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]:

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of title 10 of the United States Code, section 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 13 July 2000. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record and applicable statutes, regulations and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found that the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

The Board found that you served on active duty in the Navy from 8 January 1987 to 26 July 1991, when you were discharged by reason of physical disability due to a mental disorder. You were assigned a reenlistment code of RE-3P, to indicate that you require a waiver of your medical disqualification in order to become eligible for reenlistment. The Board did not accept your unsubstantiated contention to the effect that you did not suffer from a mental disorder during your enlistment. It did not understand your reference to "transcranial doppler guidance earphone abuse", and could not make any findings in that regard. It noted that your medical record indicates that you believed that a monitoring device had been implanted in your brain, and that you reported that you had been abused as a child. The Board was not persuaded that you did not make those claims, or that the information was placed in your record in error.

In view of the foregoing, the Board was unable to recommend any corrective action in your case. Accordingly, your application has been denied. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence or other matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

W. DEAN PFEIFFER
Executive Director
